

Dalia G Said

MB BCh, MSc, MD, FRCS

Consultant Ophthalmologist and Cornea specialist. Eye Casualty Lead

Honorary Associate Professor of Ophthalmology

Nottingham University Hospital, Nottingham, UK

Professor of Ophthalmology, RIO, Egypt

Mrs Said is a Consultant ophthalmologist and Eye casualty lead at the Queens Medical Centre, Nottingham University Hospitals, NHS Trust, with special interest in Cornea, Ocular surface diseases and Emergency eye care. She is also an Honorary Associate Professor in the University of Nottingham and involved in student teaching and medical school examinations.

She is also Professor of Ophthalmology at the Research Institute of Ophthalmology, Cairo, Egypt. She completed her residency and specialist training at the Research Institute of Ophthalmology, Cairo and served as a Clinical research fellow and as the Cornea later oculoplastic fellow for Two and a half years, at the QMC, Nottingham.

She has over 50 publications and has supervised several PhD and MD students and actively contributes to medical student teaching in Ophthalmology, University of Nottingham. She was a member of the team that was awarded The Times Higher Education Award 2014 for 'Research project of the year'.

She has been an invited speaker in many national and international conferences including twice in the Oxford congress.

She is on the editorial board of the EuCornea journal and the UK ocular tissue advisory board.

She has been involved in in multicenter studies on ocular surface stem cell transplantation